

Take the Lead 1

EMERGING LEADERS

"Leaders must be close enough to relate to others, but far enough ahead to motivate them" - John C. Maxwell

'Take the Lead' develops leadership skills and supports career development. This course is designed for emerging leaders, recently appointed leaders, or those who are already leading but would like to develop skills further in certain areas.

In leadership, one size does not fit all. Successful leaders are those who are able to adapt their style to the unique needs of their team and the situation. Emerging leaders develop their leadership skills through self-awareness, individual planning, courage and commitment. Through the application of personal insight and workplace feedback they understand their strengths, weaknesses and opportunities for improvement; building capacity both within themselves and those they lead.

In this program the focus is on current issues in leadership, leadership frameworks and theories, self-evaluation, leadership in context, trust, development planning, goal setting, effective self-reflection, resilience, collaboration, motivation, conflict resolution and coaching and mentoring models.
